Together, they come from a tradition of musical instrument making. In 2005, Torbjörn Öhrn and Tobias Lundgren launched Linn, then a completely new company and brand, in the instrument cluster of a JaguarE-Type. That was long time, customers and employees can be proud of Linn: the company began in a beautiful place and comes from a long tradition of musical instrument making. Through the years, Linn has remained committed to the ideals of the musicians and the music community while maintaining the highest standards of quality and perfection. The Linn LP12LP is the culmination of over 10 years of innovative design and cutting-edge audio production technology. The result is the most authentic and natural-sounding guitar pedal ever made. It is the world's first guitar pedal to feature single-blade jacks. And, it is the first professional-grade guitar pedal to use a 100% symmetrical magnetic circuit, which allows for unmatched realism and transparency. The Linn LP12LP is designed to be perfectly matched with the Linn Sondek LP12LP. The LP12LP is a multi-mode, premium guitar amp simulator with a tube-sounding clean boost. It is optimized for guitar sound, delivering pristine, natural tone. The LP12LP also has a smooth overdrive, with hard-hitting low-end and high-mid harmonics, creating complex and satisfying tone. It is a perfect complement to the LP12LP. A dedicated 10-band graphic EQ with nine-band parametric equalizer allows independent EQ of each of the four individual voice processing sections. A compressor, two high-pass filters, and a low-pass filter can be used in any combination. Band 1 is a general EQ, Band 2 boosts treble, Band
