Torrent sites link: News Theresa May could face legal challenges to a Brexit agreement being agreed in December if a House of Lords amendment is passed tomorrow, according to legal sources. Lawmakers have proposed the inclusion of a "sunset clause" in the Brexit bill that will guarantee that any future treaty is subject to ratification and that the UK will remain in the EU single market and customs union for the period. Ayesha Hazarika QC, a barrister who represents the Best for Britain campaign, said: "This is a really innovative, interesting and important amendment. It is designed to keep the UK in the EU single market and customs union." Miguel Hellekson, a partner at the London law firm Freshfields, said: "The government is seriously considering this amendment to ensure the necessary legal certainty. "We are continuing to work with the government on any amendments to the bill, but it seems likely that any legislative change is likely to be supported." Mr Hellekson said the amendment would be supported by all the main political parties and that it would pass the Lords easily. The news comes after pro-EU Labour MP Gareth Thomas spoke of the potential for a legal challenge if the Commons vote down the government's Brexit plans. 2d92ce491b
