VisualVernam is the ultimate utility to make copies of encrypted files. The program encrypts files and folders using a combination of 128-bit AES, 256-bit AES and Blowfish algorithms. VisualVernam can be used to hide the files and folders and protect them from unauthorized access. It also supports password protected operations. You can also use VisualVernam to copy sensitive files and folders by using its safe copies feature. VisualVernam is extremely easy to use and you don't need any kind of prior computer knowledge. A hard drive with up to 60 GB of space is enough for the operating system and applications. Users could access all files and folders stored in the C:, D: drives directly. There is no separate disk drive to be installed, and users don't have to mount the network share or volume to store files. Compatibility VisualVernam was developed using Visual Studio.NET 2005 and Windows XP/Vista. The program has been tested successfully on Windows 2000, 2003, Vista, Windows Server 2003, Windows Server 2008 and Windows 7. As a matter of fact, this application has been tested using all editions of Windows OS. File encryption used in VisualVernam is strong enough to protect files from unauthorized access. Data on the encrypted file could be recovered even if the encryption key was lost. License VisualVernam is a free application for non-commercial use and it's provided without any restriction.
